CONNECTIONS

— ○ LLC ○ —

Select an experience tailored specifically to you!

Get Connected! First-year female students who are interested in Engineering will find a supportive and academically challenging home in this community. Students will not only receive all of the academic and social support that their male counterparts receive, but will also develop support networks and mentorships in their field. In heavily male-dominated fields, these women leaders will begin to build support networks for their time at Northeastern and beyond!
